Steven A. Brick, beloved husband, father, brother, and friend, and a highly respected judge, died unexpectedly on June 10. As a colleague said, "He was too young, too smart, too nice."

Before going on the bench Brick served a year as President of the Bar Association of San Francisco and was President of the Northern California chapter of the Association of Business Trial Lawyers. After going on the bench Brick served in the Law and Motion and the Civil Trial and Complex Litigation Departments, and for one year sat by designation on the California Court of Appeal. In September 2015 he retired from the court and became a private judge with JAMS. He is survived by his wife of 48 years Ann, his daughters Kate Elizabeth and Rachel Suzanne, his brother Jeffrey, his sister Katherine and a large and devoted family.
