Nancy Jane Trumbo Hunter

November 26, 2018

Nancy Jane Trumbo Hunter, 94, of Henryville, died at home Nov. 26, 2018.

Born July 26, 1924, in Detroit, Michigan, daughter of James Keeley Chester Trumbo and Emma Jane Holbrook Trumbo, she was a graduate of the National Cathedral School and Carleton College.

She was the indispensable partner of her husband, Andrew Decker Hunter, and a devoted mother and grandmother. She was engaged in everyone's lives, always remembering birthdays, as well as attending weddings and graduations. She loved hosting friends and family for holiday and summer visits.

She had many interests, including gourmet cooking, reading and travel, but her passion and joy was Andrew, her husband of 72 years, and her children and grandchildren. She is fondly remembered by generations of the Hunter Farm and Lake Swiftwater communities, as well as her extended Trumbo family. She was a magnet for people to stop by to enjoy her company, hospitality and advice.

She is survived by daughters Alice (Mark McKenna) and Nancy (Bill Sanderson); son James (Gina Brandt); daughter-in-law Patricia; 10 grandchildren; a great-granddaughter; and many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her husband Andrew (Sept. 25, 2017); twin brothers, John and James; and sons Andrew and William.

She will be long remembered for her wit, integrity, indomitable will, and deep love of family. She will be keenly missed.
