Notice

McCune, Michael 70 Jan. 30, 1946 Mar. 05, 2016 Michael Cary McCune, 70, of Chiang Mai, Thailand, died March 5, 2016. Born in Portland to Sidney G. McCune and Kathleen D. McCune Schulte, he attended Grant High School, then Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., and Oregon State University, where he joined Sigma Chi Fraternity and received a B.S. in Math in 1967. In Los Angeles he founded Command Control and Communications, later part of Whittaker, and created advanced air defense systems. Mr. McCune moved to Thailand in 1985 and became a Buddhist, and spent six months in a monastery. He ran 100 tourism websites and supported orphanages and temples. For 15 years he helped the Chiang Mai Cricket Sixes. Mr. McCune is survived by his brothers, David M. McCune of Scappoose, Brian P. McCune of Palo Alto, Calif., and Kevin J. McCune of Bremerton, Wash.; and many nieces and nephews. A Buddhist funeral and cremation were held March 8, 2016, in Chiang Mai. A celebration of life will be held in Portland.
